

For Sale.

MacEWEN, FRICKEL & Co.
VICTORIA EXCHANGE,
QUEEN'S ROAD CENTRAL.

HAVE JUST LANDED.
THE FOLLOWING
STORES.

York HAMS.
Sultan CHEESE.
Pudding RAISINS (Valencia).
COURANTS (Patras).

MINCEMEAT.
CHRISTMAS CAKES.
FIGS.
ALMONDS AND RAISINS

Brind NUTS.
Soft-Shell ALMONDS.
Mata FRUITS.
Crystallized FRUITS.

FRUITS in Syrups.
Imperial PLUMS.
Plain PUDDINGS.
COSAQUES.

CALIFORNIA PRODUCTS.
CONDENSED MILK.
KEROSENE LAMPS.
FAIRBANK'S SCALES.
COOKING STOVES.

PARLOUR STOVES.

THE USUAL ASSORTMENT

of

OILMAN'S STORES,

AND

WINES,

at the

Lowest Possible Prices

FOR CASH.

MacEWEN, FRICKEL & Co.

Hongkong, December 1, 1885. 2084

Intimations.

NOTICE.

HONGKONG AND WHAMPOA DOCK COMPANY, LIMITED.

SHIPMASTERS AND ENGINEERS are respectfully informed that, if upon their arrival in this Harbour, NONE of the Company's FOREMEN should be at hand, Orders for REPAIRS if sent to the HEAD OFFICE, No. 14, Praya Central, will receive prompt attention.

In the Event of Complaints being found necessary, Communication with the Undersigned is requested, when immediate steps will be taken to rectify the cause of dissatisfaction.

D. GILLIES,

Secretary.

Hongkong, August 25, 1885. 1458

GRIFFITH'S

NEW VIEWS OF HONGKONG

ARE

NOW READY,

1, DUDDELL STREET.

GRIFFITH & Co.,

MANUFACTURERS

OF THE

LONDON PATED WATERS,

1, DUDDELL STREET.

Continue to Supply:

SODA WATER, LEMONADE,

TONIC, GINGERBREAD,

SHERRIS, RAISIN WINE,

SARAPARILLA, &c., &c., &c.

At the same Moderate Charges.

Hongkong, June 9, 1885. 957

DENTISTRY.

FIRST CLASS WORKMANSHIP.

MODERATE FEES.

MR. WONG TAI-FONG,

Surgeon Dentist,

(FORMERLY ASSISTANT AND LATE

TRAVEL ASSISTANT TO DR. ROGERS.)

At the urgent request of his European and American patients and friends,

has TAKEN THE OFFICE formerly occupied by Dr. ROGERS.

No. 2, DUDDELL STREET.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Discount to missionaries and families.

Sole Address,

2, DUDDELL STREET.

(Next to the New Oriental Bank.)

Hongkong, January 12, 1885. 65

CHEE WO LING KEE

HAS always on Hand STEAM

LAUNCHES FOR HIRE. Charges

as follows:—

Wing-Shing, Wing-Cheng, and Wing-Yee.

For first hour, $2.

For second hour, $1.

For every subsequent hour, $1.

Wing-Fuk, Wing-Loy, and Wing-Lee.

For first hour, $3.

For second hour, $2.

For every subsequent hour, $2.

Dates for towing Vessels and Cargo-boats, or use of LAUNCHES for Excursions to Macao, Canton, or other places may be arranged at No. 20, WING WO STREET.

Hongkong, June 13, 1885. 470

Intimations.

CHAS. J. GAUFF & Co.,

Chromometer, Watch & Clock Makers,

Jewellers, Gold & Silversmiths.

NAUTICAL, SCIENTIFIC AND

METEOROLOGICAL

INSTRUMENTS.

VOYAGERS' CELEBRATED

BINOCLULARS AND TELESCOPES.

REPAIRS OF ALL KINDS OF

ADJUTANT & DRAY CHARTS,

NAUTICAL BOOKS.

English and French-Plated Ware.

CHRISTMAS CARDS, GOLD & SILVER

JEWELLERY.

DIAMONDS

AND

DIAMOND JEWELLERY.

A Splendid Collection of the Latest LONDON

PATENT, at very moderate prices. 742

In the Matter of the Estate of the late

WILLIAM CATHARINE SYDER,

Master of the S.S. 'Greyhound.'

NOTICE is hereby given that all Persons having any CLAIMS against the Estate of the said WILLIAM CATHARINE

SYDER, who was murdered by pirates at sea, on the 17th October, 1885, and Letters of Administration to whose Estate were granted to his Widow, MARY SYDER, on the 13th DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1885, are hereby required to send in Writing to the Undersigned, on or before the 15th DAY OF JANUARY NEXT, full Particulars of their Claims or Demands, and all Persons IN-

DEBTED to the said Estate are requested to make immediate Payment to the Undersigned.

And, Notice is hereby also given that as soon as possible after the above notice has been given, the Administrator will proceed to distribute the Assets of the said Estate, and among the Parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the Claims, of which due notice shall then have been given in writing.

Dated in Hongkong,

the 27th November, 1885.

2063. THOS. M. DEIMER.

Notices to Consignees.

NETHERLANDS INDIA STEAM

NAVIGATION COMPANY, LIMITED.

FROM BATAVIA, SINGAPORE,

AND SAIGON.

THE Company's S.S. Batavia

arrived from the above Ports, Consignees

of Cargo by her are hereby informed that their Goods, with the exception of Opium are being landed at their risk into Messrs.

JARDINE, MATHESON & Co.'s West Point

Godown, whence delivery may be obtained.

Cargo remaining undelivered after the 28th Instant will be subject to rent.

No Fire Insurance has been effected.

Bills of Lading will be countersigned by

JARDINE, MATHESON & Co.,

Agents.

Hongkong, December 21, 1885. 2215

Intimations.

NOTICE.

HONGKONG AND WHAMPOA DOCK COMPANY, LIMITED.

Notices to Consignees.

FROM HAMBURG, PENANG AND

SINGAPORE.

THE S.S. 'Electra,' Captain F. NAGEL,

having arrived from the above Ports,

Consignees of Cargo are hereby informed that their Goods are being landed and stored at their risk, into the Godowns of the Underigned, whence delivery may be obtained.

Optional Cargo will be forwarded, un- less notice to the contrary be given before

28th Instant, the 22nd Instant, at 10 a.m.

Cargo remaining undelivered after the 28th Instant will be subject to rent.

No Claims will be admitted after the 28th Instant, the 22nd Instant, at 10 a.m.

No Fire Insurance has been effected.

Bills of Lading will be countersigned by

SIEMSEN & Co.,

Agents.

Hongkong, December 21, 1885. 2219

THE CHINA SHIPPERS' MUTUAL

STEAM NAVIGATION COM-

PANY, LIMITED.

NOTICE TO CONSIGNEES.

FROM LONDON AND SINGAPORE.

THE Company's S.S. 'Olingo,' having

arrived from the above Ports, Consignees

of Cargo are hereby informed that their

Goods are being landed at their risk into

the Godowns of Messrs. JARDINE,

MATHESON & Co., West Point, whence

delivery can be obtained.

No Claims will be admitted after the 28th Instant, the 22nd Instant, at 10 a.m.

No Fire Insurance has been effected.

Bills of Lading will be countersigned by

ARNHOLD, KARBURG & Co.,

Agents.

Hongkong, December 21, 1885. 2214

To-day's Advertisements.

DENTAL NOTICE.

DR. POATE will be absent from the Colony for about a week, from

WEDNESDAY, the 30th December.

Hongkong, December 24, 1885. 2245

NETHERLANDS INDIA STEAM

NAVIGATION COMPANY, LIMITED.

FOR BATAVIA, SAMARANG AND

SOURABAYA, VIA SAIGON

AND SINGAPORE.

The Co.'s Steamship

Batavia, Capt. BEHREND, will be despatched as above on about the 3rd January, 1886.

For Freight or Passage, apply to

JARDINE, MATHESON & Co.,

Agents.

Hongkong, December 24, 1885. 2239

STEAM TO DOMBOY VIA STRAITS.

The P. & O. S. N. Co.'s

Steamship

Zambesi

will leave for the above

places on WEDNESDAY, the 24th January,

at 2.30 p.m.

A. McIVER,

Superintendent.

P. & O. S. N. Co.'s Office,

Hongkong, December 24, 1885. 2243

To-day's Advertisements.

INDO-CHINA STEAM NAVIGATION

COMPANY, LIMITED.

FOR SHANGHAI

(Taking Cargo & Passengers at Through rates

for CHEFOO, HANKOW and Ports

on the YANGTZE.)

The Co.'s Steamship

Changshing, will be

despatched as above on

SATURDAY, the 26th Instant, at 3 p.m.

For Freight or Passage, apply to

JARDINE, MATHESON & Co.,

General Managers.

Hongkong, December 24, 1885. 2249

FOR SHANGHAI.

The Steamship

Changshing, will be despatched for the above Port on SATURDAY, the 26th Inst.,

at 4 p.m.

For Freight or Passage, apply to

SIEMSEN & Co.,

Agents.

Hongkong, December 24, 1885. 2241

FOR HIOGO AND YOKOHAMA

The Steamship

Changshing, will be

No. 6092.—DECEMBER 24, 1885.

We hear that Mr. V. Dautenberg, of the Naval Yard, who recently imported a score or so of Australian milch cows to start a dairy farm in Wung-tai-chong valley, has had the misfortune to lose nearly all of his herd through pleuro-pneumonia. The animals showed symptoms of the disease soon after they arrived in the Colony, and those attacked were destroyed by order of the Sanitary Board. Had the animals arrived a couple of months later, the community would certainly have had the benefit of a good supply of the best milk procurable in the Colony. We understand that Mr. Dautenberg intends to send for a second batch to replace the animals he has lost.

An adjourned enquiry was held at the Magistrate's office by the Coroner, Mr. H. E. Woodhouse, and a Jury composed of Messrs J. A. Cunningham, R. H. Heard and J. E. Lucas, concerning the death of Loung Ayan, who died from injuries received by jumping from the roof of No. 18 Square Street into the street below in attempting to escape from the police during a raid made upon the house where deceased was gambling. Deceased was recognised by a boarding-house keeper in Jardine's Bazaar as a coolie who had been living with him and was employed at the East Point Sugar Refinery. He knew that deceased was in the habit of gambling but he did not know at what house. Deceased had left his lodgings at 2 p.m. on the 21st, the day on which the accident occurred. Sergeant Hennessy, who was in charge of the party of police who raided the house No. 18 Square Street at 3.30 p.m. on the 21st inst., and arrested several of the gamblers, was examined, but had not seen anything of the accident. He was in the room where the gambling was going on, in charge of two men he had arrested, when it was reported to him that a man had jumped down from the roof into the street, and was badly injured. He at once sent the man to the Government Civil Hospital, where he died the same night from the injuries he sustained. The Jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

At the annual meeting of the District Grand Lodge of Hongkong and South China, which was held last night, Right Wor. Bro. C. P. Chan, District Grand Master in the chair, the Grand Lodge officers for the year were duly invested. Amongst the visitors present was Right Wor. Bro. Colonel Withers, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, who was received with honours. The following officers were appointed, and such of them as were present were invested by the District Grand Master—

D.D.G.M.,	Very Wor. Bro. W. B. Adams, M.D.
D.G.S.W.,	Wor. Bro. W. H. Fyfe, M.D.
D.G.J.W.,	Wor. Bro. R. H. Fyfe, M.D.
D.G. Chaplain,	Wor. Bro. W. Young, M.D.
D.G. Treasurer,	Wor. Bro. P. Jordan, M.D.
D.G. Registrar,	Wor. Bro. P. B. O. Ayres, M.D.
D.G. President of the Board of General Purposes,	Wor. Bro. E. O. Ray, M.D.
D.G. Secretary,	Wor. Bro. A. O'D. Gordin, M.D.
D.G.S.D.,	Wor. Bro. J. Christie, M.D.
D.G.J.D.,	Wor. Bro. G. C. Cox, M.D.
D.G. Sup. of Works,	Wor. Bro. Danby, M.D.
D.G.D.C.,	Wor. Bro. A. L. Woolley, M.D.
D.G. Assist. D.O.,	Wor. Bro. J. W. Tiller, M.D.
D.G. Sword Bear.,	Wor. Bro. J. Robertson, M.D.
D.G. Organist,	Bro. O. S. Goodwin, M.D.
D.G. Pursuivant,	Wor. Bro. W. O. Lewis, M.D.
D.G. Assist. Purs.,	Bro. W. F. D. Cochran, M.D.
D.G. Stewards,	Bro. M. Falconer, M.D.
"	Bro. E. Rae, M.D.
"	Bro. G. H. Eakin, M.D.
D.G. Steward,	Bro. J. Phillips (Fochew), M.D.
Tyler,	Bro. J. R. Grinble, M.D.
Wor. Bro. C. L. Gorman and Wor. Bro. E. Georg were elected members of the Board of General Purposes for next year.

Another hardship has been added to the long list of grievances suffered by Tommy Atkins. The authorities at Aldershot notified that in future charges for words noticed at public houses should be paid by the soldier. We think with truth that to charge the men for not noticing them, is, to say the least, the height of meanness.

This Courier of the 17th inst. says:—There is serious trouble brewing or brewing, between China and Japan in Korea, and the Chinese Armstrongs, now in Shanghai, are under orders to proceed to Chongchun instantly. The U. S. S. Palos leaves for the same destination tomorrow, and may possibly be accompanied by the U. S. S. Thetis, carrying the flag of Admiral Davis.

This reductio ad absurdum in the case of billiards has been surely exemplified in the recent "all in" match between Mitchell and Peall. It is not so very long since 1,000 up was the extreme length of a match, but here we have single breaks of four figures each as common as blackberries. When a man makes 634 spots strokes consecutively, as Peall did in his highest effort of 1892, billiards ceases to be a game of skill, and the player becomes a dull, monotonous, wearisome machine—Trith.

At occasional correspondence of the Shanghai Mercury writes from Hoihow as follows:—The steamer Reindeer, recently wrecked at Hainan Head, is now broken up and entirely submerged. An opinion prevails that if prompt measures had been taken this new vessel might have been taken off, after weather having prevailed for some time after the accident. The masters of vessels trading to this port look forward to the time when the power that will be the cause of the disaster will be the cause of the disaster.

That the Duke of Cumberland is in some thing more than easy circumstances may be gathered from the fact that the gold and silver plate which he has inherited from the late King of Hanover and the Duke of Brunswick weighs upwards of eight tons!

A Harlow correspondent of the Mercury says:—Entomology, a study with so many facts to be discovered and questions to be solved, is the subject of extensive research on this island, and being well known in connection with this interesting science. We understand the Professor has brought to light some interesting details concerning that well-known insect, the ant. A zoological survey might prove that Hainan has not been forgotten by nature in respect to animals. It is to be hoped that attempts will be made to open up the island and develop its resources, whether those efforts be of a missionary, scientific, or commercial character.

At the present time, when the question of disestablishing the Church of England is particularly prominent, the following calculations, for which Truth is responsible, are interesting:—The Bishop of Winchester has lately explained to the inhabitants of Farnham that all the property of the Church were taken away it would only give one farthing and a half per week per head of the population. This would give to a labourer with a wife and six children, 3d. per week, or 15s. per annum, a little that he probably would not despise. But let us take it another way. We will assume that the Church has property worth £7,000,000 per annum. This would give 5,600,000 persons a penny dinner for 3 days in each year. Putting the number of the clergy at 20,000, would it not be better that £4,000,000 should be given to the poor than that 20,000 should have a free dinner, free lodgings, and free clothes at the expense of the community?

News has been received from the Chinese branch of this Commission from Tai-ping-tu, 600 miles West of Canton. The Expedition had gone so far by water up the West River from Canton that the foreign members regret that it is impossible to see the river and the beauty and variety of the scenery. They had been five weeks reaching Tai Ping-tu, and the only quality was the wreck of Mr. James H. Hart's boat, which was the first of this month. They had about 300 men, and the land journeying begins. At Nan-shing-tu, a town which has become a scene of military importance since the French trouble began, they found the celebrated Lin Jue-shan, the leader of the Black Flag. He had 6,000 of his valiant troops—a very fine body of men—with him, and was adding to their number by enlisting recruits. If the French determine to hold Tongking after all, they have still, it would seem, to reckon with this redoubtable, invincible Chinese general in preventing his re-crossing the frontier. Courier.

At a meeting of the members of the Tucson Lodge of Freemasons, Shanghai, held on the 18th inst., Wor. Bro. Osborne Middleton, for the second time, was installed as the W. M., and the following Brethren were invested as his officers:—

Wor. Bro. T. F. Hough,	S. W.
Wor. Bro. J. W. Baird,	J. W.
Wor. Bro. W. H. Short,	Treas.
S. Moutrie,	Organist.
Wor. Bro. D. O'Rourke,	S. D.
J. H. Osborne,	J. D.
A. Gillanders,	D. C.
J. M. Sang,	L. G.
C. Merritt,	Tiler.

The ceremony was performed by Right Wor. Bro. George Thorne, Past District Grand Master of Northern China, who was accompanied by the District Grand Master of Japan, Wor. Bro. J. W. Tiller, and the District Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, Wor. Bro. J. Robertson, who were present, including sixteen Past Masters.

At a meeting of the members of the Cosmopolitan Lodge of Freemasons, Shanghai, held on the 17th inst. at the Masonic Hall, the office bearers for the ensuing year were installed by the past Right Wor. Bro. George Thorne, in the presence of between sixty and seventy brethren, including about twenty Past Masters. Wor. Bro. T. S. Southey, the retiring Senior Warden, was installed into the position of Right Wor. Bro. Thorne, and the following were invested as the office bearers:—

Wor. Bro. C. J. Holland,	I. P. M.
T. Pemberton,	D. M.
Bro. J. B. Macdonald,	S. W.
Bro. J. B. Macdonald,	S. W.
L. P. Goring,	J. W.
A. Olsen,	Treas.
W. Youngson,	Sec.
J. Gould,	S. D.
A. Laidrich,	S. D.
J. M. Sang,	D. C.
P. A. A. Kotof,	S. D.
H. Freudenreich,	J. S.
O. Merritt,	Tiler.

Right Wor. Bro. George Thorne, having resigned the high office of District Grand Master of Northern China, which he has held since the formation of the District Grand Lodge eight or nine years ago, the occasion was marked by a Scotch Mason to present him with an address and a Compendium Lodge jewel. The presentation was made by Wor. Bro. C. J. Macdonald, the Senior Past Master of the Lodge, and it was most interesting to hear the veteran narrate the prominent words of wisdom from Wor. Bro. Thorne in his last thirty years, and those who heard the words of wisdom from Wor. Bro. Thorne would do well to keep up to the mark the Shanghai and the public would know that there is something more in Masonry than it receives credit for. The gathering was interesting, from another fact; it was a celebration of the coming of age of the Cosmopolitan Lodge, which has now entered on the twenty-second year of its existence. Wor. Bro. Thorne, who was the founder of the Lodge, and the opportunity was taken to present him with an address and a Compendium Lodge jewel in recognition of his untiring services in the advancement of its interests and prosperity. The presentation was made by Wor. Bro. C. J. Macdonald, the Senior Past Master of the Lodge, and it was most interesting to hear the veteran narrate the prominent words of wisdom from Wor. Bro. Thorne in his last thirty years, and those who heard the words of wisdom from Wor. Bro. Thorne would do well to keep up to the mark the Shanghai and the public would know that there is something more in Masonry than it receives credit for. The gathering was interesting, from another fact; it was a celebration of the coming of age of the Cosmopolitan Lodge, which has now entered on the twenty-second year of its existence.

At occasional correspondence of the Shanghai Mercury writes from Hoihow as follows:—The steamer Reindeer, recently wrecked at Hainan Head, is now broken up and entirely submerged. An opinion prevails that if prompt measures had been taken this new vessel might have been taken off, after weather having prevailed for some time after the accident. The masters of vessels trading to this port look forward to the time when the power that will be the cause of the disaster will be the cause of the disaster.

At occasional correspondence of the Shanghai Mercury writes from Hoihow as follows:—The steamer Reindeer, recently wrecked at Hainan Head, is now broken up and entirely submerged. An opinion prevails that if prompt measures had been taken this new vessel might have been taken off, after weather having prevailed for some time after the accident. The masters of vessels trading to this port look forward to the time when the power that will be the cause of the disaster will be the cause of the disaster.

Mr. T. T. Ferguson, who has been for twenty years French Consul at Chiofo, has been decorated with the Légion d'honneur.—Shanghai Mercury.

The wholesome criticism, taken from Truth, of the prevalent favoritism which exists in the British service will be read with satisfaction by Navy men generally, and by those who have been enlightened on this account particularly. Nineteen years ago, Prince Louis of Battenberg was promoted over the heads of one hundred and sixty senior officers, and two days after he was appointed to a ship, and, within two months, he was promoted to a second ship. Two months ago, this favoured personage was again promoted, over the heads of nearly three hundred officers, and I hear that on his return from Darmstadt he is to be appointed to one of the Royal yachts, the friends of which are among the best names of the service. If Prince Louis gets the command of the Albatros, I hope he will not be so unfortunate as the last quasi-Royal commander of that vessel, Prince Leiningen, whose carelessness and blundering—unquestionably caused the collision at Heligoland in 1875, and if he had been treated after the usual fashion under such circumstances, he would have been permanently shelved, and deservedly so; but thanks to his connection with the crown, he has been promoted to a second ship, and he is now in the command of the Albatros, in preference to numerous officers whose claims were based only upon long, useful, and hard service.

One of the most amusing cases of libel we have read of for some time has just been disposed of—and very properly disposed of. In Melbourne, Mr. E. V. Browne, who lately was a clerk in the Post Office, seems to have been a young man who did not break his back with hard work, to say the least of it. So much of a misanthrope, indeed, was his position in the Post Office that attention was called to his conduct, and he was eventually dismissed. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk, who had been doing nothing for six months but drawing his pay and sitting on a stool, might be turned to some good account. He was to continue doing his work, and he was to be paid for his work. The suggestion of Penck on the case was that this Post Office clerk,

